Follow the applicable warehouse and carrier rules for lithium-ion and button-cell battery products. Batteries supplied with products are not classified as customer-replaceable unless the product specification expressly states otherwise.

Apparel and footwear allocation

Apparel and footwear stock is recorded by size in the inventory system. Catalog quantities stated as “across sizes” are aggregate sellable units and should not be used to confirm availability of an individual size without a live inventory check.

Product review actions

At the August 2026 review:

- No safety recalls were recorded against the active catalog items.
- Three products remain available only as clearance stock.
- Seasonal hold products should be reviewed before the autumn/winter assortment lock.
- Product images, dimensional data, and packaging weights should be reconciled against the latest supplier files before any major marketplace feed update.

End of catalog.
